

WHY THIS PROJECT AND WHY NOW?

What is history if it is not shared?

This project offers an opportunity to do more than PRESERVE history; it allows you to PARTICIPATE in Falmouth's future.

Falmouth Historical Society has been a repository of Falmouth's stories since its founding in 1900. It has an integral role in the community as a gathering place for school classes, civic groups, family celebrations, author talks, artists, and discussions of current events. Remembering our past strengthens us today and for the future by providing a sense of place. This project will help us better serve our community.

Why now?

Critical Need: Every building component, from the foundation to the roof and all mechanical systems, is in urgent need of attention.

Cost-Efficiency: Combining the critical preservation work with needed improvements to the rest of the house is cost-effective and efficient, minimizing disruption and maximizing stewardship of the building and funds.

Timing: Moving forward now ensures that FHS receives funding from two generous matching grants earmarked for the Conant House project.
